THE EFFECT OF GLOBALIZATION ON HEALTH ARE DIVERSE DISCUSS HOW GLOBALIZATION EFFECT THE OVERALL HEALTH SITUATION OF NIGERIA.

The term globalization tends to be misused and we need greater clarity in our understanding of the globalization process, including the distinct changers involved and their relation to human health.

Globalization allow Nigeria to export and import good, capital and investment with out restriction Globalization promoter the rapid output growth that will increase national income and as aconsequence enhance higher standerd of living of developing country like Nigeria.

Major positive impact of globalization on health in Nigeria is that it has facilitated the spread of heath sector reforms. This practice is a form of cognitive globazalition in transferring policies about health care provision and financing across the world. The result is that national health system only face the challenge of adapted these polices to their local contests. The mulleins development goal (mdgs) and health for all strategies E.t.c are few examples of global pursuits at improving the health care system adopted in Nigeria and other third world counties.
